

P1:

Answer 1:

I like the design its very clear. I like it. I think the filter part you have to make it more obvious. Instead of the icon you have more information about it.

Answer 2:

Yes, I like it but I have to say since you asked many task related to image to display the image then I guess you can let's say like the timeline maybe you don't need to be so precisely to show the timeline maybe like the image it's you can show it maybe in the timeline or something, I'm not sure I'm assuming.

Answer 3:

Yeah, I like it very clear and very neat.

Answer 4:

I personally think you can just click the image and you can basically find everything from the timeline how you display the content of the timeline that is very clear.

Answer 5:

Yeah, like I said maybe the filter part you should put more information.

Answer 6:

Not much change just put the filter part try to display somewhere give a more obvious hint.

Answer 7:

I think it's very good. I'm the user or other people going to use it? User privacy that's what I'm considering about. You know, are these data I can see it and maybe my friends if I invite them kind of like Facebook right the data? or my boss can see it or I am not sure who can see it this information because it kind of like private?

P2:

Answer 1:

To be honest looks nice, I like the design that it is colourful but there are not so many functions inside. If I click this I expect more than just pictures and pictures. I except more interesting or some videos not only pictures.

Answer 2:

Yeah, pretty nice. Yeah, I like it. the time is clear the people that are coming for the event is clear that your calendar also nice.

Answer 3:

Yes

Answer 4:

I told you if you had more videos from the events.

Answer 5:

I like the design as I mentioned before. I like that it's very simple easy to understand but at the beginning I was confused because it thought it was time management.

Answer 6:

I don't know maybe I will make it a little bit more complicated because it is two events for now. Maybe 10 event or several events.

Answer 7:

In general, I like to design. The design is more nice.

P3*Answer 1:

I think it's good. All is working well and almost immediate once you know how it works it is immediate.

Answer 2:

Yeah, its tidy and you can find almost all the information from a single page.

Answer 3:

Yeah, they are clear and clearly shown without clicking you can have an immediate look for example of what happened at 14:15.

Answer 4:

I like this timeline with immediate feedback and also the filter is good and the way they are organised is good. So, there is a big event for each meeting for example and you can scroll all of them or sort them by date or something.

Answer 5:

The only difficulty I had is was to find the fixed camera. Maybe you should put there instead of putting it in the menu in the settings, you should be put the bigger tick in the main page to show fixed camera photos.

Answer 6:

Maybe the one I just said about the fixed camera.

Answer 7:

No, it's ok.

P4

Answer 1:

I think it's okay. Once the user knows what the web page does it's very easy to navigate. But I think so there could be a bit more clarity with what where how to sort that when you click on an icon you can view all the images captured by that person and I think it should be easier to view the fixed camera ones. Are they should just be an icon and which is fixed on the Helping page and once you click on it the fix camera shows up and if you click again it goes away but otherwise I think it's ok to navigate.

Answer 2:

For the most part yeah, that you can see the images when you hover over them. I am not sure about the authentication about who's allowed to see what but I think it's all from your perspective I think it should be fine.

Answer 3:

I like the way they are presented that could be a little bit more clarity with the functionalities such as adding a caption I think the icon looks like I can edit the title instead.

Answer 4:

I like the different types of sorting and you can hide the fixed camera. I also like the you can sort the different events and then click on the particular person to see their perspective.

Answer 5:

I am not sure. I would say least or anything I think all the features here are good to have.

Answer 6:

I would change some of the icons that you have and I would change the settings bar into the menu bar.

Answer 7:

Not really, I think some of the titles are little bit blurry other than that it's okay.

P5

Answer 1:

I think it's clear. I mean, I like the you can see the timelines when people are contributing to the event and you see the you know they are I think the visual is very good. It's clear, I don't know exactly what events are or how it is worked previously but assume your tag somehow the events. What was not so clear was to do this search I mean they are hidden in this button here that look like preferences.

Answer 2:

Yeah, I think that's clear.

Answer 3:

Yeah, it is good when you go with the mouse over you can see like a preview and you can click if this to find all the call the images for one event wasn't so clear. I mean, I realised that okay if I go with a mouse over here it changes to a link I can click here but otherwise maybe that's not so clear. I had to look for it that way.

Answer 4:

Yeah, I think that's clear.

Answer 5:

Yeah, it's good here. You can see the other features what we did not discuss. Well you can see the location here the information about the event I think it's quite clear maybe the date is here so that's a little bit confusing. it was here I see the time but then I have to oh it was this date so.

Answer 6:

Yeah, I think that was not so clear with this button here maybe they could be another way in some menu that its more now. I had to click for the first time once after I realise here are more options but it was not so intuitive.

Answer 7:

The sorting options more easily access able or more direct. Yeah, this was not clear for search for a caption maybe here could be some there is no information even if I go mouse hover and to make it a little more direct that would be more beneficial they a bit hidden the advance features.

Answer 8:

I don't know. I think that's fine.

P6

Answer 1:

Yeah, I think it's a good website. One feature I like is picture display when you are moving hovering around the mouse you can see the pictures showing along the timeline. I think this can do some links between the memory of the day and what happens so that's why it's a good feature. One thing I am not very or overall impression is that they are so minor flaws might be misguiding to let me don't know what will happen if I click it only if I try it I will know it's maybe you can improve some on that part.

Answer 2:

Yes, I like the display feature as I mentioned and I think now it's a timeline based on date but it might have some problems if the events accumulate for example, there's half a year and then you retrieve it by date will be a mess if you drag along it will go all the way.

Answer 3:

Yes, I think that is a good feature I like it.

Answer 4:

The display and how the users are presented here I can quickly find here and joined and shared my day during the timeline I think this are the good features.

Answer 5:

One thing is the event tag because it's got the same function when clicked it also has one navigation to all the pictures and I think this text should be have some similarity with this user tag. So, when I use it I will know okay these are the same stuff this is one thing and the other think is when I put the mouse on the image of the user can see four photos. I don't know this for photos is selected by purpose or randomly and actually they are more than four but the one the first time I use as are there only four pictures single day so maybe you can find another way to present it here.

Answer 6:

So, for now I think is to re-organise the tag off the events to make it similar to a user's tag maybe not the same as a profile of a person but in the same shape a round shape with coloured background and another thing is to change here the most hovering here how many pictures and there was person to his place.

Answer 7:

I think this is a good website I really like the feature that I can see the people who joined my day from an overview of the timeline think this is a very good feature you should keep it and maybe there are some extra features. You can add like what are the interactions with users shared with a day for example here I have a chess game with nenji you can automatically extract it or manually extract annotated here or Jacob today went hiking with nami so with this way its visualise more clear on what happened today not that to after looking the photos you know this this might make it more interesting.

P7*Answer 1:

I like the interface it easy to comprehend and even the day of the event are clear the only thing is this view of the fixed infrastructure camera as a participant is not so clear and the box is too small so it's not easy to see.

Answer 2:

Yeah everything is on the homepage is clear if you want to look for an event it has the events icon once you want to search you have the date you have the location which are easy to pick and you can see the participant the name and you can see the pictures result clicking on the user so like a preview which is good so understand that you click on this icon you will get this all the images so yeah.

Answer 3:

Yeah, sure especially they are organised by time it clear and the time interval is not so big and not so short so it's okay clear enough.

Answer 4:

I like this part of the website where you have the sorting of the timeline with the users and once you have the mouse on the icon you can see like some of the pictures so you don't need to really click on the user to check the pictures just u can stay on the home page and you still see the pictures so this is a plus.

Answer 5:

This option this menu it here has space you know like this space is not so nice to see because before you select the location it's okay it's not clear why you have empty space here and in the end this one is pushed so down maybe if can click here and then this will move the date and the space down yeah.

Answer 6:

Maybe I will put like this event 1, event 2 and event 3 if you can give them a name then you can organise them by alphabetic order this can be a way to look for the event.

Answer 7:

No, I think it's clear enough yeah.

P8

Answer 1:

It makes sense absolutely the timeline when is very nice to see, I like it and I don't like the options hidden here in settings on the right side. I think those should go right under this recall bar if you should have like a filtered by which is where I expected to see because for example, for the fixed infrastructure it was very confusing I had no idea this data was available so I had to go in there so if you could move this whole thing to a bar. It would just make it 20 times better now you see this this is glitching that happens is driving me nuts. I have to be honest ok so this event here the square it's nice and make things clear but I don't think it's truly worth putting into this box so slow like it. Mean if you could do it essentially dissolve in the box making it very well over here either here or what you do is you split every timeline and put it at the bottom of something and then you encapsulate that as a unit that maybe makes the bit more sense. It's because the date here ok so right now we have three events in 3 days ok great, what happens if I have two events on the same day I mean do they get a box like this and the date gets repeated. No, ok would get there get one and two without this essentially ok so this makes sense. Ok, I wouldn't put it here with maybe I just put it up so it cannot it's a title that is leading to these 2 sections its simply like a tweak. Yeah it should really show me look this what it happened as of now it's essentially merging with this which it shouldn't do. The rest the logo is very nice, the bar I like it as I said before this is not clear showing the images available is great actually great and very nice where you can go through it very quickly and get an idea. But If I am looking for all the images ok here I can't click so maybe like view all images great this is nice. Otherwise the functionality is there I don't like is this hidden section here. The rest it works that the really few tweaks here and there but otherwise its totally fine.

Answer 2:

Yeah, that I like. The few remarks I said are mostly graphical. But the information makes sense the way you encapsulated it completely makes sense. The timeline thing is really great absolutely that makes a lot of sense because you get ton of images from these things so the way its displayed perfect.

Answer 3:

Oh yeah, the images are fine. This works or maybe but bigger and put the usual black background and so I can move the exact thing that I can move it between the pictures has to be there. I don't like this the edit button which doesn't make any sense but this is this is very small tweak that you can do it takes you do it. But otherwise it makes sense because you see who took it date and everything information you can trash it which is great you can share it you can close it I think information is there absolutely. But the gallery has to be put in the centre is this is this is bothering me so just put it in the centre maybe make it as big as possible and it's more that black background and you fine and make it to move with the arrows key. And if you are able to give the dimension of the thumbnail it would be great if i have 10000 images or something.

Answer 4:

The timeline is something I adore this thing is beautiful it just makes sense. That I can scroll very quickly take a look at the image I like it I really like it.

Answer 5:

As I said the way you are hiding important information, the settings here doesn't work push it up here once you do that it makes more sense.

Answer 6:

It's not a significant change because there is no need for significant changes year did the website make sense which is I think the most important thing but the most significant me with this has to be up here (settings). Absolutely this is the most significant one to do. The rest is I mean you can overlook it but this is important one.

Answer 7:

No, the website is fine. Just maybe a bit more work is required with the glitching it's just a concept so it's fine. Some Highlighting the options will be nice and also if you can highlight the significant ones the images I can just go and click at those and look at those that would be nice to have.
